About

STING is made for players who want their apparel to carry the same intensity as their game. The design starts with a clean black body, then adds bright red contrast panels across the shoulders for instant visual punch. Across the main body, you get understated diagonal chevron-style striping and faint layered graphic panels that give the shirt extra depth without making it feel too busy. The standout feature is the oversized red scorpion artwork, which stretches across the lower front and continues around the side and back, giving the whole shirt a dynamic, predatory edge.

This is not just a graphic piece—it is made for real performance. The classic fit keeps it comfortable and easy to wear, while mesh ventilation under both arms helps improve breathability during long practice sessions or tournament play. The structured pro collar adds a polished athletic finish, and the premium fabric blend gives the shirt a smooth, lightweight feel on the body. If you want a shirt that combines sharp style, strong identity, and dependable comfort, STING lands the hit.
